Suzanne Clements

Breakfast in bed, acrylic on canvas

Artist Statement: The use of the figure allows me to explore those issues that I find to be most interesting and especially significant in today's culture. I use my experience and the experiences of others to fuel my exploration of how each of us perceives our own image. The butterfly is a common symbol and represents a sense of unease, fragility, and camouflaging beauty to imply strength. These symbols become significant and constant in my most recent series of work.

Moving past previous works which were more confrontational and blunt in their emotional execution, these new works use the beauty of the butterflies and their surroundings as a "smoke screen" for the issues being investigated below the surface. Each image's raw message is entangled in a detailed and very intentional mask of delicate beauty.
